What's New?

On-line inter- depository transfers (OLIDT)

In our July–August 2002 issue, it was indicated that “On-line inter- depository transfers (OLIDT)” facility would be released in December 2002. Users will be happy to note that the facility of OLIDT has since gone live with effect from December 14, 2002.

Utilities and Benefits of OLIDT:

1. Using this facility, securities can be transferred between the depositories as per the convenience of investors (BOs), clearing members (CMs) and depository participants (DPs), any time during the specified business hours instead of effecting such transfers only at fixed timings.
2. Thus, securities received in payout by BOs / CMs can be transferred immediately to any account with the other depository. This has increased the users’ options to utilise securities received for subsequent transactions, particularly, for pay-in. The securities received in the CDSL account would be immediately available to meet the pay-in obligations, using the multiple convenient pay-in options available in the CDSL system like early pay-in, normal pay-in, BO-level pay-in and auto pay-in.
3. The introduction of OLIDT will reduce the counter party risk especially for high value transactions involving debt instruments by moving funds and securities simultaneously. More particularly brokers who work for FIIs will find the new facility very beneficial by delivering the securities to the custodians after payment.

Admission of debt instruments now mandatory on both the depositories

While most of the issuers of debt instruments prefer to admit their securities with both CDSL & NSDL, there may still be a few, who, being not aware of the benefits of admitting their securities with both the depositories, might have been admitting debt securities in one of the depositories alone. As in case of equity, the admission of debt instruments with both the depositories permits movement between buyers and sellers across the depositories. This improves marketability of the securities, leads to better price discovery and offers an opportunity to accountholders across the depositories to be able to make investment in such instruments.

SEBI, through its circular dated November 1, 2002 has made it mandatory for the issuers to admit their debt instruments on both the depositories.

Incorporation of “settlement number” in transfer instructions

The importance of incorporation of “settlement number” in transfer instructions has already been highlighted in our July-August, 2002 issue. It has now been decided that effective January 01, 2003, it will be compulsory for BOs / CMs to mention the “Settlement number” against which securities are being delivered while issuing instruction for transfer of securities from and/or to CM accounts.

DPs should ensure that all BOs / CMs furnish the settlement number before executing the debit instruction lest it should not result into a failed trade. This will also help BOs and CMs to reconcile their holdings settlement-wise as the transaction statement of the delivering BO / CM account would be reflecting the "settlement details" for which the securities are being credited to the receiving CM's Pool a/c. However, the settlement details for credits received by BOs / CMs from the other depository would be reflected in the transaction statement provided the delivering account holders from the other depository furnish such details. CMs should also ensure that their clients having demat accounts with the other depository do mention the settlement number as it would lead to faster reconciliation of their transaction statements.

Abolishing of account closure charges

SEBI had received various representations from BOs to direct DPs not to levy any account closure charges and to allow free movement of securities when an account is closed. In view of the same, SEBI has decided that the DPs shall not charge any account closure charges on BO accounts with effect from November 1, 2002. However, the transaction charges will remain to be charged as may be applicable.

DPs serviced through e-ARMS

CDSL's centralized database design coupled with the low setup cost for DPs has enabled DPs to offer depository services through electronically connected branches from more than 100 cities in the country. CDSL has noted that in case of any disruption in services due to a malfunction of computers or connectivity at DPs end, CDSL engineers had to be rushed to fix the problem resulting in additional cost to the concerned DP. Besides, any disruption of system would result in downtime causing inconveniences to the BOs.

CDSL, which has always endeavoured to provide a low cost solution to its DPs as it would eventually result in a lower cost to the end user, has now launched a state-of-the-art facility named "electronic- Automated Remote Management Support (e-ARMS)", as a utility for instant, on-line technical support and service to DPs through CDSL's own, secured network. With the introduction of 'e-ARMS', any software/operating system related fault that may develop at the DP front end would be analyzed at CDSL's end thereby eliminating the need of deputation of its engineers thus saving both time and cost. The 'Chat' facility available in 'e-ARMS', besides saving the cost of communication will further reduce the downtime at the DP end.

'e-ARMS' which has already been installed at 100 DP centres is being rolled over to other DPs/branches in a phased manner, which is expected to be completed by March 2003. 'e-ARMS' is one more step forward in fulfilling CDSL's vision of providing "centrally managed and supported service" environment to its users, so that users can devote more attention to their business promotion.

easi services for BOs

CDSL's newly introduced facility "Electronic Access to Securities Information (easi)", details of which were highlighted in our previous issue has been well appreciated by users. Its utility will be increased with the ensuing reduction in settlement cycle to T+2, where access to information of one's demat account will become a key requirement for settling the trades within the stipulated time. easi enables CMs and BOs with CDSL to obtain updated information of their demat accounts through the internet. Names of the DPs/Branches, which are registered under easi services are given hereunder for reference and use of BOs/CMs:

Future to be easiest - The proposed enhancements of CDSL's web initiative are more exciting. CMs / BOs will soon be able to transact through CDSL's proposed facility "electronic access to securities information & execution of secured transactions" (easiest). This will include issuance of debit instructions (in case of delivery) from a demat account, which will not only obviate the need of visiting DP office to lodge instruction slip/s, but also facilitate easy compliance of shorter settlement cycles. With the Indian capital market moving towards shorter settlement cycles, this would be one of the first steps in the areas of securities settlement in the direction of introducing 'Straight through Processing'. Besides, BOs will be given the facility to lock and unlock their demat accounts by themselves.

BOs serviced by the above mentioned DPs and wishing to avail of easi services, may download the registration form from CDSL's website www.cdslindia.com and forward the same duly completed to their DPs. It may be noted that CDSL currently does not collect any registration charge from BOs. Similarly, the DPs who have still not registered under easi may also download the 'DP registration form' and submit their application to CDSL. Further information in this regard may be obtained from 'CDSL Help Desk' on Tel : 2272 3333 Extn: 8624/8663/8639.

Infoline Update

Transposition-Cum-Demat

1. What is transposition?

Change in the order of names in which certificates are issued is termed as transposition.

2. What is the significance of transposition in demat?

Sometimes, investors having title to securities hold them jointly with one/two/three persons in different order of names for variety of reasons. Since dematerialisation can take place through a demat account only in the identical order of names, such investors would have to open multiple demat accounts as per the order of holdings. To avoid such a situation, the investors could consider using the transposition-cum-demat facility offered by CDSL.

3. What is Transposition-cum-demat?

Transposition-cum-demat is a facility, which enables investors to transpose names of the joint holders in desired order along with the process of dematerialisation of certificates. Transposition-cum-dematerialisation facilitates dematerialisation of certificates held in different order through one demat account. It may be noted that securities to be transpositioned are held to the order of the same titleholder.

Illustratively if 'A' owns a security and hold the same in the names of ABC, ACB, etc. he can transpose them in the name of, say, ABC in which order demat account can be opened. No new name can be added through transposition process. Similarly, existing names can not be deleted.

4. What procedure should be followed by the

BO for transposition-cum-dematerialisation request?

The BO should submit his application in Transposition Request Form (TRPF) along with the Demat Request Form (DRF) and the share/securities certificates.

5. Should separate TRPF be filled for each ISIN? Yes.

6. Whether a separate TRPF should be filled for each combination of names?

No. Different combination of names can be listed in separate boxes in point (C) in the TRPF. If the space provided in the TRPF is not found sufficient, a separate form or an annexure may be used.

7. What are the requirements for availing of the transposition-cum-demat facility?

- a) The application for transposition should contain only those names in which the BO account has been opened.
- b) Signatures of the all holders appended on TRPF should tally with the DP's records.

8. Does CDSL collect any additional charge for entertaining transposition-cum-demat requests?

No, CDSL does not collect any fee from DPs for processing transposition-cum-dematerialisation.

9. Can the application for transposition be used with remat request form?

No, the application for transposition cannot be used along with rematerialisation request.

Change in CDSL Telephone Numbers

The existing telephone numbers of CDSL have changed with effect from November 10, 2002 with the introduction of an eight-digit telephone numbering scheme in Mumbai. All existing telephone numbers of CDSL starting with 234 will be replaced with 5634 followed by rest of the digits. All other existing CDSL telephone numbers viz. 272 3333 will be changed to 2 272 3333. Changes in some of the important telephone numbers of CSDL are as follows:

New Telephone Numbers
Board	2272 3333
Help Desk	2272 1261
Marketing	5634 1857
Fax	2272 3199/2272 2072
