What's New?

Government Securities

In CDSL Infoline issue of April 2002, it was indicated that CDSL had started admitting Government Securities (G-Secs). Since then, over 100 ISINs for G-Secs are created in CDSL system. G-Secs can now be bought and sold like shares and debentures on the stock exchanges. Initially, only G-Secs issued by the Central Government can be traded. Settlement of G-Sec trades has to be made in the demat form. Beneficial Owners (BOs) can receive, hold and deliver G-Secs through their existing demat account with CDSL. Thus, CDSL now extends depository services of maintaining and transferring the records of ownership of G-Secs in dematerialised form to individuals and others like banks, non resident Indians, provident fund trusts, corporates etc. RBI has permitted banks to consider the G-Secs held in their CDSL demat account for calculation of SLR requirements. Investors such as banks holding G-Secs in book entry form through their Subsidiary General Ledger (SGL) accounts can now hold them in their demat account with CDSL. Such transfers presently take 2 working days. Investors wishing to get G-Secs held in paper form may approach their Depository Participant (DPs) for dematting them with CDSL.

SEBI Directive to Issuers/RTAs

With a view to ensuring proper compliances, SEBI has directed that all work relating to share registry both in terms of physical and electronic connectivity should be maintained at a single point i.e. either by the company in-house or by a SEBI registered R & T Agent. SEBI has also directed issuer companies to immediately subject themselves to a quarterly secretarial audit by a qualified Chartered Accountant or a Company Secretary.

T+2 Rolling Settlement

The unparalleled success of the introduction of depository concept in the Indian capital markets is reflected in the ongoing reduction in settlement cycle period. In July 2001, a T+5 rolling settlement cycle was introduced for the equities market. That was shortened to T+3 settlement cycle with effect from April 2002. SEBI now intends to introduce T+2 rolling settlement from April 2003. This will result in further shortening of the period for receipt of sale proceeds of equities. On the other hand, it will cast an obligation on the investors to ensure issuing of delivery instructions immediately after any transaction is completed. DPs will also have to fine-tune their operations to execute such instructions promptly.

Advantage CDSL in T+2 Scenario

CDSL has made available to Clearing Members (CMs) and BOs several convenient pay-in options like early pay-in, normal pay-in, auto pay-in and BO-level pay-in. CMs/BOs can deliver securities directly to the Clearing Corporation (CC) / Clearing House (CH) through the early pay-in module, immediately after the trade has been executed. BOs can also deliver the securities to the CC/CH directly from their account i.e. without the need of transferring them first to a CM account and then to CC/CH. This enables him to save valuable time - which is the objective of the shorter settlement cycles. CDSL system also has a facility to pick up the balance available in the BO account at the time of pay-in, even if the available balance is not sufficient to meet the pay-in obligation in full. This reduces the amount of loss, if any, which may arise on account of failure to deliver full quantity due to the non-picking of available quantity. Further, information on such shortfall is made available to CMs even through CDSL's internet facility-easi on almost real time basis, continuously.

IDBI Bank Ltd. and Indusind Bank Ltd. Commence CDSL DP Services

CDSL's ever-increasing list of DPs now has IDBI bank

Limited and Indusind Bank Limited as its DPs. Each of these banks are in the process of offering CDSL services through their 50 branches across the country.

Demat Delays – SEBI Actions

As per depository regulations, byelaws / operating instructions, dematerialisation of physical securities should be completed within 21 days. While most of the companies adhere to this time limit, there are quite a few companies who take unduly long time in confirming the demat requests. This is despite the fact that CDSL and its DPs forward such requests to concerned Issuers/RTAs within 48 working hours of their receipt from BOs. CDSL and its DPs regularly follow-up with the Issuers/RTAs for such delays. SEBI has recently initiated several actions to ensure proper compliance by the company. Besides making it mandatory to have a single entity for handling physical and electronic share registrar / connectivity and introduction of securities audit which, interalia, has to certify that demat requests are being confirmed within 21 days. SEBI has also initiated action against recalcitrant issuers including filing a complaint against one such company and its whole-time Directors before the Additional Chief Metropolitan Magistrate, Mumbai. CDSL has been publishing the names of 100 companies, which report pending demat requests for more than 30 days. This list is available on CDSL's website www.cdsli.com. CDSL will now be publishing names of 200 such companies instead of 100 for guidance of DPs/BOs. Investors are advised to go through this list before deciding to tender shares of such companies to DPs for forwarding them to issuers for dematting.

Mandatory Inclusion Of "Settlement Number"

In the CDSL Infoline issue of July-August 2002, it was informed that CDSL had introduced the facility of indicating settlement number details in the instruction slip. With effect from January 01, 2003, it is now mandatory for all BOs and CMs to mention the settlement number in the instruction slips. CMs and DPs are advised to ensure that their clients mention the "Settlement number" in the instruction slips while giving instructions involving transfers from or to CM account, in order to ensure prompt execution of such instructions by the DP.

Convenient 'Single' Slip for Delivery and Receipt Instructions

Alongwith the introduction of settlement number, CDSL has also revised the format of the instruction slip to be used for issuing delivery and receipt instructions. In CDSL system, BOs do not have to use different types of instruction slips for on-market, off-market and inter-depository instructions. While revising the format, it has been ensured that the settlement number is conveniently split into "exchange", "settlement type" and "settlement no.", so that it becomes easy for BOs to fill it. BOs delivering securities from their account with the other depository must ensure to obtain from their DPs, the inter-depository transaction slip separately prescribed by NSDL.

Transfer-cum-Dematerialisation

In February 2000 with the approval of SEBI, CDSL had introduced a simultaneous Transfer-cum-Dematerialisation (TCD) facility for companies, whose shares were to be mandatorily settled in demat form by all classes of investors. The TCD facility enabled Issuers to credit securities in the BO's demat account after transferring the same in the name of the BO, without having to send the physical certificates back to the BO after transfer. This facility was introduced with a view to expedite the process of dematerialisation. Since then the requests for such demats have reduced considerably, as all the transactions above 500 shares are required to be delivered only in the demat form and hardly any settlement takes place in physical form. In fact shares of all companies are now included in the list of mandatory demat settlement. SEBI has now agreed to extend TCD facility to all listed companies, but, only upto 500 shares transferred.
